

Escape the Summer HEAT

Don't Squint this summer, get a durable retractable roller or fixed awning from Barrie Tent and Awning. The company's roots go back to 1945, and office manager David O'Brien said they still offer old-fashion customer service while providing the latest shade technology.

He has seen the outdoor shade options offered from the big box stores, but they don't come with a 10 year warranty, like his industry leading Sunbrella® fabrics. "We offer free in-home estimates and will spend the time to find a solution that will work best for you. We have access to 1000's of fabrics to accentuate your home's unique colour palette." said David. Professionally installed, a retractable awning can be either motorized or manually extended to provide shade when you need it, and retracted when you don't. Barrie Tent and Awning also offers a wide range of other shade solutions for home or business customers and backs up all its products with friendly service to make sure all customers are satisfied. David added, "We have recently completed a major overhaul of our website to highlight the many options and products available to any potential customers. That way they have much of the information already once they have made the decision to go ahead and get an estimate."
